HOLMAN'S

Liver and Stomach Pad

Cures without Medicine.

An efficacious remedy for all diseases having their origin in a torpid liver and diseased stomach, has been discovered in the Holman Liver Pad. The inventor of this boon to suffering humanity was himself a victim of chronic disease, and, having tried medicines in vain, conceived the idea of an external remedy. The Pad applied immediately over the vitals and the centre of the nervous system, absorbs all poisons and diffuses a vegetable tonic throughout the entire system through the pores and by means of the circulation. The torpidity of the liver is thus removed, the tone of the stomach restored, and the organs resume their wonted functions. Finding that the principle worked successfully in his own case, the discovery was made public, and thousands have since tried it with the most beneficial results. The names of a large number of well known citizens in all parts of the country, who owe their restoration to health to the Liver Pad, attest the genuineness of this great invention. It requires no internal medicines; it is simple, painless, and rapid in its operations, applicable to children as well as adults of both sexes, and in case there should be no disease in the system, remains passive, doing no harm. Persons who are incredulous as to the value of this Pad, will do well to send for a pamphlet to the Agency.

Associated Press Telegram

HAVAS' AGENCY

Paris, 16th (Evening)

The apparent difficulty between Russia and France, in consequence of the Hartmann incident (supposed author of the Moscow attempt, whose extradition was denied by the French Government) seems to be happily removed, and the relations between both Governments appear to become cordial again.

A telegram from St. Petersburg announced to-day that the Russian Ambassador Prince Poe Orloff, will shortly return to resume his post.

THE RURAL EXHIBITION.

On last Sunday we were all busy with the election of electors; on this Sunday we inaugurate the Rural Exhibition. The two celebrations represent the two great issues in this country, politics and industry; both are essential to a nation. The Rural Exhibition, which we inaugurate to-day, is every inch as important as the elections which we inaugurated last week; nevertheless it must be accepted as a significant fact that the crowd to-day at Palermo will infinitely outnumber the crowd on last Sunday at the elections; and did we devote as much attention to industry as to politics, did our newspapers publish as able leading articles on the breed of bulls and the rearing of cattle as they do on provincial rights and constitutional questions, the probability is that over 14,000,000 cows would supply the world with cheese, and our steamers to Europe would take home tame, fat novillos by the thousand every month.

The growth of industry in the River Plate admits of no denial. We see it in our cities, in our camps, on our rivers, and in our exports. We were about to say, we see it everywhere, even in our Legislatures, our Government Houses, and our newspapers; but without making a charge so sweeping, at least it may be urged that River Plate industry owes little to Government support or newspaper patronage.

The greatest and most wondrous fact is, that in spite of every check, every tax, every impediment, our industries progress, mocking every effort to hammer them down; and the secret spring of this industrial progress is at last acknowledged by even the politician. Dr. Plaza, in his admirable speech inaugurating the San Luis Railway last week, apostrophises this progress, and our colleague the Nacion, in a very able article on Friday morning, extends on this subject and confesses that, spite of all the political dangers of the moment, the progressive march of the country is a newly developed power that neutralizes all our errors and extricates us from political difficulties, the offspring of our own blunders.

The cattle show to-day at Palermo Park is one of the most instructive lessons that could be afforded the people of the invincible march of their country; within a single generation everything seen at this show has been effected; this is the fourth exhibition of the kind, and we leave it to our readers to say what will be the dimensions of the twenty-fourth rural exhibition, and if Palermo Park will be large enough to hold all the prize animals for show. If the River Plate has grown strong and prosperous and successful in spite of itself, we must never forget that it possesses an element which in other countries is a staple support of the population, but of which, in this land, not the slightest use has, as yet been made. We refer to the DAIRY, and it does seem an anomaly that a nation owning 14,000,000 of cows is without a dairy. Last year we gave our readers some particulars of the value of the dairy farms in the United States, and the export of cheeses, which completely eclipses our wool or hide trade. That dairy farming business is just about to rear its head in this country admits of not the least doubt; its development is gradual but certain; the first step in this direction, and a great step it was, is the fencing of the estancias, the next step the importation of prize bulls, the next step exhibitions such as we inaugurate to-day. Every man who walks around the show can tell you how many sheep will decently support a family in this country, but not one of them can tell you how many cows will serve the same purpose. Mr E. Olivera, our Postmaster-general, knows how many cows will support a family in Switzerland; and, even supposing that we required three cows in the River Plate to give the yield of one in Europe, we have cows for all. Richer than California's mines or Australian diggings is this inexhaustible element of rural wealth, and the day that we milk our cows and make our butter and cheeses, the value of our live stock, our estancia lands, and our properties will advance fifty per cent.

Fourteen million of cows and yet not a drop of milk on our estancias! Fourteen million of cows and yet import from Europe our cheeses! Fourteen million of cows and Argentine stocks in London at a discount! We vote for a milkman for the next President of the Republic.

CAÑADA HONDA, SAN LUIS.

We had occasion on Friday to admire the gold samples brought down from the Cañada Honda, Province of San Luis, by Mr. St. John Wileman. One 'pepita' weighs two ounces, and the gold sand is thick. Professor Kyle, in analysing two samples of the auriferous substance, has given a most favorable verdict as to the average yield. These gold samples eloquently corroborate Mr. Manuel Alberdi's statements regarding the immense mineral wealth of the Republic, a wealth that lies dormant owing to the prejudices entertained in this market against all mining industry. These prejudices can easily be excused when one reads in every page of Mr. Alberdi's book the unprincipled and wretched manner the mines are generally worked. The name of mine is an apology for works where the lodes are merely picked and then ruthlessly abandoned.

The Cañada Honda, where these samples have been extracted, is perhaps the most auriferous valley of the Province of San Luis. In 1843 over 2000 diggers were working here and in the neighbouring valleys; all the gold extracted was carried over to Chile, and many made fortunes. The gold lies in a hard cemented kind of gravel on rock, under 12 and 15 metres of black soil.

All the neighbouring heights are crossed with lodes and veins, also gullies, doubtless the work of time and water; the valley must have been for years the receptacle of minerals. One part of the valley forms a basin, no doubt the former bed of a lake or arroyo, which must abound in wealth, considering that at the former outlet of the lake Mr. Morales is carrying on gold works on a large scale by means of the water power of the arroyo, saving him the expense of keeping 50 men.

Mr. Morales employs only four men, and clears on an average every day two ounces. The auriferous gravel never gives less than an adarme, one-sixteenth of an ounce, per metre cubic, which is a very good yield. Often the yield is larger, in fact it is generally so.

The great advantage of the Cañada Honda is the gold washing, whereas mines necessitate complicated machinery, and the expense of crushing the quartz and working the mines is great. Works on a large scale alone can give profitable results in mining. The gold-washing process is much simpler and needs but little capital.

The expense of sinking shafts and losing cylinders in the Cañada Honda could be easily obviated if the water of the arroyo be employed to move off the 12 or 15 yards of black soil which covers the auriferous deposits. Mr Mauricio Morales and the La Descubridora Company work in Cañada. The land belonging to Mr Morales has the advantage over that of the Company, owing to the bed of the river lying on the very rock, and thus facilitating his hydraulic process. The Company's lands lie along the river, but its bed is of novel formation and only a few yards deep, making the process, so successfully employed by Morales, impossible.

The valley of the Cañada is long, and the auriferous deposits cover 200 yards width of the valley by a length of 5½ leagues. It is quite obvious that if a mining company was started here with a large capital it would do a most profitable business. As to the mineral wealth of the valley there is not the slightest doubt, and the many 'picaduras' and general knowledge of the valley are sufficiently convincing.

As Mr. Alberdi says, we are mere children in our mining industries: the mines are picked, some ounces of gold extracted, and then abandoned. The invasion of water and any remarkable depth put a stop to all our mining works, and treasures are left hidden in the bowels of the earth which a sound company, with good machinery and skilful miners, would extract. Leagues and leagues of land in the provinces are fields of mineral lodes, and no mine in the Republic reaches 80 metres in depth.

It is extraordinary that the inhabitants of these provinces do not club together to purchase machinery, with a view of profiting by their mineral soil. But every one looks on mining with a dark suspicion which borders on incredulity, yet 50 years ago vessels arrived in B. Ayres laden with pickaxes for the gold, silver and copper mines of the Republic.

THE SAN LUIS RAILWAY INAUGURATION.

Cordoba, April 14th.

Dear Standard,

I saw with regret in your issue of the 6th inst. that you would be unable to attend the inauguration of the extension of the Andine line, as I always read with pleasure your graphic accounts of these celebrations, which mark the efforts of the National Government in forwarding the material interests of the country, by opening up the interior provinces, and increasing the facilities of communication between these and the Litoral. The announcement, however, that your Rosario 'Own Correspondent' would represent your paper on the occasion afforded me some consolation, as I know no better travelling companion, and none more able than he to make time pass agreeably, or to put novices into the way of the best of the many good things which by judicious management are to be tasted, seen and heard at such fetes. Where the talk is wittiest (I had nearly written wickedest), the wine brightest, and the girls nicest, is certain to be found your jovial R. O. C. Therefore, when at 7 a.m., on Friday the 9th inst, I saw him striding down the platform of the Rosario station with the air of a man resolved to do his duty at any personal sacrifice, I congratulated myself on having such a companion on the long trip to Villa Mercedes, and met him with a greeting the warmth of which corresponded to the satisfaction I felt. He, however, informed me that he could not spare the time to attend the inauguration, and coolly suggested that I should take a few notes of the proceedings and forward them to you. Under the influence of a small refreshment at the buffet, I rashly promised to do so, in order that your readers who take interest in such matters might have some idea how the affair went off. So, arming myself with a quire of paper and a new pencil, I tremblingly awaited the arrival of His Excellency the Minister of Hacienda, and party.

The time fixed for the departure of the special train was 7.15 a.m., but it did not get off till 8.15. His Excellency was accompanied by Mr White, the talented Director of the Dept. of National Engineers, and some 8 or 10 other persons, amongst whom I recognised Mr Melchor G. Rom; so the party was small but promised to be a merry one, as where Mr Rom is, gravity becomes impossible, and fun and frolic reign supreme. The weather was simply splendid, bright sunshine with a cool breeze, and it having rained nearly the day before, there was no dust to cause inconvenience, a blessing which habitual railway travellers can thankfully appreciate. Off we sped, running rapidly to C. de Gomez, which was reached at 9.45. The several Railway Colonies looked thriving, the pasture green and plentiful, and much land being broken up for next wheat sowing. His Excellency appeared much interested in the state of the colonies and asked Mr Fisher many questions relative to their position and progress. At C. de Gomez we partook of the excellent coffee and succulent 'fiambres' provided for the party by Mr Fisher justice having been done to these, another start was made, and Fraile Muerto reached at 1 p.m. The camps between Canada de Gomez and Fraile Muerto were in excellent condition, but they are not so thickly settled as are those nearer Rosario. The Bustinga colony, some 3 leagues before reaching Tortugas, having at present some 60 families, and the Tortugas colony (consisting wholly of Italian families) on the Cordoba side of the river, are at present the only ones laid out in that district. The train was met at Fraile Muerto by many families of the town who received His Excellency very cordially. A splendid breakfast was laid out in the station saloon, to which some 40 persons sat down. Dr Plaza, with his usual urbanity and gallantry, invited some English ladies and gentlemen, who were in the train from Cordoba on their way to Rosario, to the breakfast.

This finished, the train started and in 70 minutes reached Villa Maria, the 36 miles being easily run in that time by the powerful engines of the Central Argentine Railway Company. The stay in Villa Maria did not exceed half-an hour, the change of engines and arrangement of the train for the Andine line being rapidly effected by the experienced staff of station officials. Amid cheers for President Avellaneda, Dr Plaza, and General Roca from the immense crowd of spectators, the party embarked for Rio 4°, having incorporated the guests from Cordoba and Villa Maria. At 4.30 p.m. the train left, and the writer, knowing by experience the monotony of the journey before him (and a 'siesta' being desirable) wisely determined to sleep, if possible, till he arrived in Rio 4°. He might have succeeded in this, but, about 4 kilometres before reaching General Cabrera station, some derangement to the internal economy of the engine brought the train to a stand still. It was found necessary for another engine to be sent from Rio 4° to assist us. Fortunately a portable telegraph apparatus in charge of Sr Voplino was in the train, so communication with Rio 4° was opened at once, and a special engine dispatched immediately, thus reducing the delay to a minimum.

At General Cabrera Station a table was laid out with a a tempting display of refreshments, but owing to the delay which had already occurred no time could be spared to sit down to them. They were packed into the train and there discussed in novel pic-nic fashion, to the great comfort of the hungry passengers. We finally arrived in Rio 4° at 2.30 a.m, where at that early hour the dinner which had been prepared for 10 p.m. was partaken of by such of the party who had still energy and appetite left to enjoy it. The writer, however, was not one of these for the fatigues of the day having proved overpowering, he retired to his catre after leaving General Cabrera and knew nothing more till 6.30 a.m when he awoke quite lively and refreshed. Now; being accustomed to rise early—that is when he feels like it—he made a hasty toilette, and, on bread and coffee intent, wended his steps to the buffet, but everything was closed, all the people in the station—cooks and waiters included—appeared to be enjoying a Rip Van Winkle sleep He, therefore, though it must be admitted very unwillingly, extended his walk and renewed his acquaintance with the neighbourhood. It has certainly not made much progress in the four years which have passed since my last visit—a new house here and there, a new church—or rather half of a church, for its erection appears to have been suddenly arrested, are the most notable changes that fixed my attention; in fact Rio Cuarto is a good specimen of the dead and alive non-progressing town one expects to see in the Interior provinces.

At 11.30 a.m. a 'recherche' breakfast was served in the large refreshment room at the station, and some 60 persons sat down, many ladies being present.

At 1 p.m. the party embarked for Villa Mercedes, the guests from Rio Cuarto having increased the number to 120, more or less.

UNPLEASANT AFFAIR.

The mere translation of the subjoined bulletin is sufficient to inform our readers of a scandal that calls for the severest comment. We are happy to say that such scenes are not frequent in this city, and that when anything of the kind does occur, the strong good sense of the people is shown in their most expressive disapprobation; and this alone vindicates our good name.

Bulletin of the Tribuna.

"The Cordoba Deputies to Congress arrived this morning by the Campana Railway, and several friends of theirs were in waiting at the Central Station to bid them welcome. At an early hour some 40 or 50 policemen in plain clothes and Provincial employees assembled at the station, and when the train arrived they raised cries of 'Down with the Cordoba Deputies,' etc.: this produced a scuffle, during which the honourable Deputies were pelted with flour.

Don Frederick Corvalan had two elderly ladies with him, one suffering from a serious illness. Both these ladies and Sr. Corvalan were attacked, and it was most painful to see these poor ladies, their feaces pale with terror and their dresses soiled with what had been thrown at them.

"Major Jacinto Cueto prevented one fellow from throwing another missile, and he was immediately collared by five policemen, who had looked on quietly while the ladies and the Deputies were being assailed. One man, whose name we shall take pains to find out, struck Major Cueto on the back, and when the gallant officer turned round to defend himself he was arrested and taken to the Comisaria, where further shouts and tumult arose.

"Messrs. Enrique Moreno, Luis del Carril and Sr. Carboni then accompanied Deputy Bouquet to his hotel, and Lt. Colonel Segui and others went with Mr. Corvalan to his carriage.

"It is with the utmost pain that we publish details so little creditable to Buenos Ayres.

"In what other civilized country on earth could such a scene be witnessed?"

OUR PARIS LETTER.

(Our own Correspondent.)

While most monarchical countries are suffering from some form of 'ism,' Paris is singularly exempt from any of the plagues of Egypt or the capital sins: the reactionist press assure us night and morning, that we are dancing on a volcano, but the incandescence of the boards has no inconvenience. The revenue continues to march from surplus to surplus: the city taxes yield an excess of fr. 20,000,000; Paris is a perpetual fete: dinners, balls, soirees, tableaux vivants, chamber concerts, fancy routs and every pleasure calculated to elbow Lent out of the calendar and abstinence from the road to salvation; scientists examine theologians and preachers as critics do dramas and artists: the pastor Did and M. de la Forge, stump France to collect sous to found lay schools: the former eulogizes Voltaire as the apostle of toleration and charity, and the latter demands the fullest liberty for the press. President Grevy has made so many happy and unhappy, by his fetes, that he feels compelled to give a few 'bals des refuses,' and soirees devoted to music and theatricals, M. Gambetta is reported to have caught the contagion to be gay: as he will give a monster entertainment, despite having handed over his official allowance for such to relieve his electors during the late hard winter. Foreigners commence to have a town house in Paris; private carriages out-number cabs, and seem to be as common as walking sticks and umbrellas; places of public amusement are crowded, and nights are rapidly becoming confounded with day. If the Carnival be dead in Paris, Mid-Lent holiday lives, thanks to the washerwoman, and never did they have a more lively fete than that just held. Many of the young 'blanchisseuses' in their classical costumes and mounted on triumphal cars, looked extremely pretty; the utilitarians seized the occasion to sell their soap, cocoa and perfumery: the political to represent the 'ancien regime' by an old woman, and the ex-empire by a baron with a crownless hat, a coat and trousers full of holes, toeless shoes, unkempt hair, and a tremendous shillelah, while France was a robust and blooming demoiselle in red, white and blue, kissing hands 'urbi et orbi.' At the Opera masked ball there were present the German Ambassador, the reigning Duke of Saxe-Coburg, the Minister of Commerce, and lesser stars, all giving way to joy, as Fahrbach says. It is not in listening to the waltzes of Metra, the quadrilles of Strauss, and the scenes of Gavarni, that people think of war.

The Opera Comique has at last brought out Jean de Nivelle, libretto by Messrs. Goudinet and Gille, music by Leo Delibes. It has proved a success: The score is elegantly written, delicate, belongs to the fine melodies of Coppelia and Sylvia, and while recalling the souvenirs of the German school, retains that peculiarly French trait—clearness. The scene is laid in Burgundy, time Louis XI. and opens with the entry of twelve queens of the Vintage; the second scene is in the interior of a palace, and the third a delicious forest tableau. Mlle. Bilbant—Vanchelet, established her claims to be a diva, by her singing: she looked admirable in her village costume of violet woollen, a black belt and garlands of flowers: her second toilette was a peach rose brocade bordered with ermine, a golden sash, and a coiffure of peasant, with gold ornaments and pearls, and a large veil embroidered with gold. Talazac's tenor voice was heard to great advantage in the role of Jean. Berlioz has his fanatics and so has Wagner: a number of the latter have hired Nadar's photo gallery, and every evening 'commune with the composer,' recalling somewhat the early Christians of the Catacombs. After the execution of some 'morceau' of Tristan and Iseult or Lohengrin, an auditor makes a conference to explain its beauties: the admirers grouped round the piano suggest the disciples of Mesmer around his bucket.

After the dreary winter it is refreshing to visit the flower markets, and inhale the perfume of the violets, never so sweet, modest, or nodding as at present: the pretty milliners cannot resist expending two sous out of their modest breakfast money, to ornament their corsage with a bouquet. Flowers are becoming not so much a household luxury as a necessity: it is quite common in middle class life to have all the dishes on the dinner table surrounded with garlands of flowers, the colors and arabesque patterns depending on the taste of the hostess: white lilac figures in every drawing-room and is four times dearer than the colored: to these is generally added half a dozen varieties of roses, some white and red camelias and a few gardenias: they please the eye better than bonbon boxes and the usual drawing room bibelots.

The Municipal Council has nominated six eminent dramatic artists, two of whom are ladies, to give lessons in 'reading aloud'—not declamatin or elocution, to the advanced classes of the city schools, so as to enable pupils to express intelligibly the sense of what they read.

B. AYRES ATHLETIC SOCIETY

A general meeting of the above society took place on Friday evening, 16th inst., in the schoolroom of the Scotch Church. There were six of the Committee present and a fair number of members.

Mr. Robert Bamsay, occupying the chair, opened the meeting with a short and terse address. He regretted to have to mention the latent condition in which the club had been for the last two years; more than one attempt had been made to get up Sports, but when the entries were sent in they were found insufficient to form a programme to do honor to the Society He thought it incredible that out of such a large community as the British in Buenos Ayres there would not be enough (say thirty or forty men) who would come forward and take part in one of the most healthy and popular amusements, instituted in nearly all British communities. He mentioned the existence of four British railways and one bank, surely out of those five institutions alone there ought to be more than enough (not to mention commercial houses and brokers) to ensure the success of an athletic meeting. Mr. Ramsay closed his address, wishing every success to the autumn meeting, and felt assured that it would be well attended.

The following are the new committee elected:—Messrs. R. Ramsay, R. Bridgett, H. Ford, Bowen and H. Shaw.

After the usual vote of thanks to the Rev. James Smith, for his kindness in lending his schoolroom, the meeting broke up in the full assurance that the autumn meeting of 1880 would be a success in every respect.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The event of to-day is the opening of the Cattle Show of the Rural Society at Palermo. We anticipate the public will be surprised at the number and quality of the animals exhibited. In no quarter is the 'Invincible Progress' of the nation more strikingly apparent than in our improved breeds of cows, sheep and horses. The Northern and Campana Railways and the Belgrano Tramway Company have made special arrangements for carrying the public to and fro, and a crowded attendance may be counted on. Mr Hansen, the well known 'restaurateur' of Palermo, has also made special arrangements, and is ready to 'restore' visitors to the Show in a manner eclipsing the Restoration of the Merry Monarch, or any other King, and at the lowest of low prices.

The city was somewhat startled yesterday morning by bulletins announcing the truly scandalous attack on the Deputies to Congress from Cordoba, and some elderly ladies. We give particulars in another column, and are inclined to think that this wretched affair is more due to the indiscreet zeal of some subordinates than to any countenance lent to it by the leaders of their political party. In any case it is a business in which the people of Buenos Ayres had no part, and such being the case its importance is not great.

The Rev. Father Martin will preach to-day at the Merced Church (not at San Roque,) after the Mass at one o'clock.

We wish to inform our 'Mutual Improvement' correspondents that they must 'level up' the tone of their communications if they wish to see any more of them in print in this paper. We felt bound yesterday to consign two more communications on the same subject to the w.p.b.

The Italian papers announce that the Marquis of Grillo, Ristori's husband, lately found on his estate near Rome a concealed treasure worth 50,000 pats. Lucky Marquis.

The little question between the city bakers and the Municipality is, we hear, likely to terminate by the 'staff-of-life' men being allowed to sell it by weight or any other way which may be agreed on by them selves and customers. We suppose this will suit all parties.

The latest rumour from Montevideo is that Colonel Latorre has not gone either to Brazil or Europe, but will shortly return to Montevideo. There is no fresh news in the papers from the sister city. The Codigo Militar is to be revised. Mr. McEachen's rumoured resignation was all moonshine: he is the most popular man in the Cabinet. Dr. Pereyra is the Chairman of the new Beneficencia Committee. Half a dozen captains, lieutenants and ensigns of the 2nd Chasseurs have thrown up their commissions.

There is a flutter in the highly respectable town of Azul, owing to the discovery of some very ugly frauds in the sale of the chacra lots round the town. The owners of the said farms are in a very nervous frame of mind, not knowing what their titles may be worth, and a crop of lawsuits is feared that will beat in number those which arose from the famous 'pig bet' in Rosario, some of which are still going on, and are likely to last well into the next century. The fact of an innocent bet, as to how a fat porker can be divided into two exactly equal parts, giving rise to half-a-dozen lawsuits shows the elasticity of this grand country. No wonder that neither politics, [epidemics or crises can ruin it. We'd back the lawyers to do it, however, if they were allowed. Migoue case to wit.

Mr. Videla's proposal to the Provincial Government to finish the City Improvements involves an advance by the Provincial Bank of no less the $120,000,000 currency. Mr Lezica's plan does not require a dollar in loan. 'Ergo.'

Terrible news. The Comet is to reappear on 13th June, at 4 o'clock a.m., and smash this terrestrial sphere into the most diminutive of bits. The vapour from the comet will asphyxiate every living thing about half an hour before the collision occurs. So says a Baltimore astronomer. Before we make our last will and testament, we should like to hear what Dr. Gould says. As for subscriptions to the Standard paid in advance, the crisis is too imminent to bestow a thought on them.

Our excellent colleague Le Courrier published yesterday some highly interesting calculations on the loss to this province through the neglect of dairy farming. 'Make cheese and butter,' says our colleague. The Standard has preached the same for years. Our contemporary says that recent political agitation has cost the province 60 millions!! If it attended properly to dairy farming and eschewed politics its profits on the cows would be 120,000,000 !!! annually. Only for politics the wealth of this province could easily be doubled in ten years.

Igino Migliori (son of Gioachino) native of Prato (Italy) and lately employed in a Navigation Company at Liverpool, is hereby requested to state his present address to Doctor Luigi Brunori, No. 57 Calle 25 de Mayo, Buenos Ayres, in order to get important news concerning his family. Any clue tending to the above will be thankfully acknowledged.

The following particulars of a fashionable wedding which lately took place at Greenwich will interest many people in the River Plate:—

"The marriage of Lieut. H. S. Clarke, R.N., and Mrs. E. H. J. Shadwell, only daughter of the late Major Barry Thomas, of the 9th Regiment, was celebrated at St. Alphege's, the parish church of Greenwich, on Tuesday. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. M. L S. Clarke, rector of Bexhill and prebendary of Chichester. The bride was given away by Admiral Sir Charles Shadwell, K.C.B., president of the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, at whose residence the wedding festivities were celebrated. The bride wore a dress of rich silver-grey corded silk, trimmed with duchesse satin and white lace, with bonnet of the same and white tulle veil. Her travelling costume was of dark sapphire blue cashmere and embossed velvet, with hat to correspond. The presents were numerous and costly. Among the guests were General Shadwell, C.B., Rev. L. S. and Mrs. Clarke, Miss Clarke, Miss Lena Clarke, Mr. Ronald Clarke, brother to the bridegroom, and best man; Mr. and Mrs. Witherby, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Captain Vander Meulen, R.N., Captain Brooke, R.N., and Mr. Dunster. After breakfast the bride and bridegroom left for London."

Signor Colantony, one of Ernest Rossi's best pupils, gives a grand musical and dramatic entertainment to-night at the Opera House. The play is 'Francesca de Rimini,' and Signor Colantony had such a great success in the difficult role of 'Hamlet,' that we are inclined to think he will play to a full house this evening.

The fare to the Cattle Show to-day by the Belgrano Tramway is only 3$ m|c. instead of the ordinary fare 4$ m|c. A return ticket by rail is only 5$ m|c. The time table of the Campana Railway for to-day is a special one for the Cattle Show.

We received a copy of the Empresario of Tunja dated 15th January last. We wonder where it has been travelling these three months; perhaps to Melbourne or Afghanistan and back.

The French Philanthropic Society have resolved to suppress the public religious services in the Chapel of their Hospital. We take it that this means to forbid only the entrance of the public, and not suppress the services themselves.

The affair at the Central Station this morning was the absorbing topic on 'Change, and gave rise to very severe remarks; but that it showed some slight influence on the gold market, we should not advert to it, but gold hardened, and when people asked why? the bulletin of the Tribuna was flung into their hands as explanation. Gold opened at 30.65 which was 5 cents over yesterday's closing rate, then dropped to 30.60, and closed firm at opening rate, 30.65. The cash sales were heavy, 153,320, and the vencimientos 217,000. The sales for the end of April amounted to 165,000, and for end of May 115,000. It was generally said on 'Change that the National Government broker took up about 100,000 pats gold to pay for exchange he took during the week, and politicians were also buying gold. Spite, however, of every folly, and every scandal, gold did not advance as much as speculators counted on. The controlling power of the market is no longer in the hands of rulers or politicians. The Heifers at the Rural Exhibition outweigh the scales.

Cedulas have again advanced and closed at 86½ cash, and ½ for end of month. National Bank Shares are again back at 56. Very little done in any stocks to-day; people busy reading bulletins.

The news from the West Coast at last points to a finale, and we suppose we may accept the bombardment of Callao as imminent, since the Chilian Admiral has given the foreign shipping eight days to leave the port.

The payments on 'Change for produce were much larger to-day than last Saturday, and at all the banks there was a heavy cash movement. Notwithstanding all they say about the wool being all sold, we note that every morning fresh lots are bought, and the consignees' clerks go about on Saturday with their usual large piles of paper money. Moreover, the sales of saladero produce during the week amounted to something, and people who regard the business season as closed, are somewhat premature; there is still much business doing. Mr H. L. Green's lengthy export table, published this morning, shows how many new articles of export are being added to the list.

Our attention has been called to the very exorbitant freight charged on goods coming from the U. States by steamer; 13s 2d per cubic foot against 6d to 1s only charged from England. It is really no wonder that our trade with the U. States be so trifling since such enormous freights are charged.

The report of the Provincial Bank was sent round to-day, it gives a very clear insight into the business of the Bank for the year, but perhaps that which will most interest the market is the exchange tables which reflect everything. They show the drawing of the Bank for each month in the past year, and we note that a this time last year the Bank had drawn in sterling £300,000, and in francs 2,600,000 frs. against really nothing at all this year. The Directors also suggest the creation of a clearing house. The Bank drew on London and Paris as follows during the year.—

	London	Paris
January 1879	$267	frc.1000
Feb. do	21,400	nil
March	163,930	1,481,628

Yesterday 4000 salted hides from Podesta's saladero Magdalena were sold at 51½ rls, and a farther lot of salted potros at 18 rls on shore, and Sr Bellocq sold 2000 salt potros from Gualeguay, at 17 rls, also 500 river dry hides, 48 rls, 500 Corrientino 49, and 1200 Cordovese at 52.

Mr Green in his interesting circular gives the following summary of exports—

	1880	1879	1878
Salted hides	262,316	298,961	273,676
Dry do	993,350	883,621	731,435
Wool bales	182,773	164,864	168,493

Advices from the camp to-day are not favorable; the rain is much wanted in all parts. Mr. Meyer, of Lobos, informs us that even out there the camps are very dry, whilst at the Lomas de Zamora, the most fertile spot in the Republic, not even grass for a cow is to be had, the fields are getting so very dry. We believe we are on the edge of a great storm. The mosquitoes about Flores are worse than in the very depth of summer.

The Senegal has brought the catalogues of the Havre auction 15th to 18th March, which give great news for this market. The best lots were sold by Kreglinger for account of various houses here, and fetched prices not even anticipated by the holders themselves. We find lot 82, estancia Negreti, 19 bales per Dom Pedro sold at 2.35, lot 84 same estancia and steamer 2.30, and one lot from same estancia Leicester ex Pampa at 2.70, and two more lots same estancia at same splendid price. Lots 155-157, belonging to Arning & Hütz, sold at 2.10-2.15. Lots 215-252, all for same firm, sold from 2.35, all B. Aires wools, to 1.50 for the most inferior belly and other stuff. M. A Le Play sold for account of a Belgian house here over 3,000 bales, all inferior wools, from 1.30-2.05, which leaves to our enterprising shipper splendid profit. The prices for washed wool result of this splendid auction are:—

	Bonns a belle.	Laine courante.
Merino	6.50-75	6.50
Prime	6.50	6.25
Segund	6.40-50	6.25

The stock in Havre on 15th March was:—
8,951 bales B. Aires
3,989 bales Montevideo

Imports for fortnight 15,483 bales; sales 4,171 bales; shipped direct to North France 1,947 bales. Montevidean wools much looked for for U. States. The remarkable feature of this most remarkable auction is that inferior wool advanced more than fine wool, and it is the belief of competent people that in July and August as high as 8 francs will be paid. More still, when the Senegal left Bordeaux the total stock of sheepskins was reduced to 100 bales, a thing never before known. All the wool manufacturers in the North of France have made splendid profits this year, and some of our artistas houses having bought combing wool freely show a profit of one million of francs, and the letters from France received by the Senegal speak of these profits.

Mr Hormann Altgelt, under date of April 17th 1880, publishes a wheat and cereal circular which gives as follows—

"The arrivals of wheat &c. during the last week were:—

	Wheat. Kgs.	Flour. Kgs.	Maize Kgs.
By Rivers	219,528	263,534	5,000
West. Railway	141,915	25,279	226,111
South. Railway	57,760	—	285,255
In carts	30,000	—	10,000
Montevideo	122,946	—	—
Total	571,149	289,113	526,366

Further lots of 2,991 bags of wheat and 2,342 of maize have come in, but their weight has not yet been registered. Coast wheat has risen $6 per fan., owing to scarcity. Other classes remain steady. The millers, nevertheless, hold back although they know the crop is not enough to meet even home consumption. The falling of in Candial kinds is still greater, and what comes in is of inferior quality. Some sales of wheat from deposit have been made at 245 to 255. Three cargoes of Rosario wheat sold at Boca at 220 to 230 per fan. of 9 ar. on board. Nearly all the Banda Oriental wheat to hand has been sold at 235 to 245. From 190 up to 230 paid for Candial. The flour market shows signs of awakening. The bakers who bought in December and January at low prices have exhausted their stocks, and the millers will not sell at the same prices, and there is every sign of a rise in price. Of maize there is no stock; no export going on, and prices oscillating daily from 68 to 82. Market firm. Hay—The disappearance of yellow fever from Brazil will soon allow of export thither, and as freights have fallen, there is hope of higher prices. Fea nuts are coming in strong from Santa Fe; price 90 to 95 per quintal. Ten thousand arrobas of Cordoba beans have been sold for export to Europe at 18½ with sack."

Messrs Oostendorp & Co., under date Antwerp, 18th March, 1880, give the following important wool advices:—

Wool—

Sales, 4,200 bales B. Aires, 600 bls. Montevideo, 600 bls. Cape, and 200 bls. miscellaneous.
Stock, 10,300 bales B. Aires, 3,100 bls. Montevideo, and 100 bls. Entre Rios, besides 600 bales miscellaneous.

A good demand having continued to prevail, holders succeeded in establishing a further advance of 5 to 10c., which makes 15.20c. improvement for B. Aires on last auctions' quotations. Montevideo wools are still attracting buyers' attention, partly for shipment to the U. States, and rule now 15-30c. above January rates according to quality and condition.

New clip B. Aires invoices, averaging a 1st are at present with about—
F.1.75-85 for well conditioned 31-32 o|o
F.1.70 for good average 30 o|o
F.1.60-60 for secondary 27-29 o|o
Fair to good Montevideo shipments averaging a 2nd, 39-40 o|o, are quoted f.2.30-35.

Scoured B. Aires wool has been made to stand in (washing and forwarding expenses excluded) at f.5.60-75 for fair, f.5.80 to f.6 for good, and f.6.15-40 for superior 1st.

The London Colonial wool sales which opened on 17th February closed on 12th March, the quantity brought forward at same only amounting to 189,000 bales against 262,000 bales at the corresponding series of 1879, and this has partly caused the advance of 5-7½ o|o lately observed on opening rates. The next sales will begin on 20th April and 350,000 bls. will be catalogued at same; it is not considered unlikely that this large total may cause prices to recede somewhat.

The Havre auctions opened on 16th inst., out of 3,500 bales offered at the first 2 sittings, 2,900 sold at an advance of about 25c. on their January rates, which it is considered brings up prices there to a parity with those ruling here.
